

RICHART'S SHOES

'Tis a Feat to Fit the Feet

We are Feet Fitters. Do your wear shoes?
Do you appreciate Style and Workmanship?
Do you realize we buy from the best manufacturers in the United States direct? Our whole aim and ambition is to study shoe business. That is all in your favor. We can prove same by showing you for Fall 1904, an "up to the minute" line of Men's and Ladies' shoes that will meet with your most fastidious taste.

Yours to please,

RICHART'S Shoe House.

NO 13 EAST SECOND STREET, SEYMOUR, INDIANA.

instant the figure of Knute crouching obstinately on the edge of the curb, where he had evidently posted himself in distinct refusal to come any farther. In vain his master, for the well dressed man before me was no less a personage than the whilom butt of all the boys between the capitol and the treasury building, signalled and commanded him to cross to his side. Nothing could induce the mastiff to budge from that quarter of the street where he felt himself safe.

Mr. Moore, glorying in the prospect of unlimited wealth, presented a startling contrast in more ways than one to the poverty stricken old man whose curious garb and lonely habits had made him an object of ridicule to half the town. I own that I was half amused and half awed by the condescending bow with which he greeted my offhand nod and the affable way in which he remarked:

"You are making use of your prerogatives as a member of the police, I see."

The words came as easily from his lips as if his practice in affability had been of the very longest.

"I wonder how the old place enjoys its present distinction," he went on, running his eye over the dilapidated walls under which we stood, with very evident pride in their vast proportions and the air of gloomy grandeur which signalized them. "If it partakes in the slightest degree of the feelings of its owner, I can vouch for its impatience at the free use which is made of its time worn rooms and halls. Are these intrusions necessary? Now that Mrs. Jeffrey's body has been removed, do you feel that the scene of her demise need hold the attention of the police any longer?"

"That is a question to put to the superintendent and not to me," was my deprecatory reply. "The major has issued no orders for the watch to be taken off, so we men have no choice. I am sorry if it offends you. Doubtless a few days will end the matter, and the keys will be given into your hand. I suppose you are anxious to move in."

He cast a glance behind him at his dog, gave a whistle, which passed unheeded, and replied, with dignity, if but little heart:

"When a man has passed his seventh decade he is not apt to be so patient with delay as when he has a prospect of many years before him. I am anxious to enter my own house—yes. I have much to do there."

I remounted the steps, carefully remarking:

"I'll see you again after taking a turn through the house. If I discover anything, ghost marks or human marks which might be of interest to you, I'll let you know."

It was necessary for the success of my plan that some time should elapse before I reapproached Mr. Moore. I therefore kept my word to him and satisfied my own curiosity by taking a fresh tour through the house. Naturally, in doing this, I visited the library. Here all was dark. The faint twilight still illuminating the street failed to penetrate here. I was obliged to light my lantern.

My first glance was toward the fireplace. Venturesome hands had been there. Not only had the fender been drawn out and the grate set aside, but the huge settle had been wrenched free from the mantel and dragged into the center of the room. Rather pleased at this change, for with all my apparent bravado I did not enjoy too close a proximity to the cruel hearthstone, I stopped to give this settle a thorough investigation. The result was disappointing. To all appearance—and I did not spare it the experiment of many a thump and knock—it was a perfectly innocuous piece of furniture, devoid of anything that could explain the tragedies which had occurred so near it. I even sat down on its musty old cushion and shut my eyes, but was unrewarded by alarming visions or disturbance of any sort. Nor did the floor where it had stood yield any better results to the inquiring eye.

Inspecting the library fireplace

Nothing was to be seen there but the marks left by the removal of its base from the blackened boards.

Disgusted with myself if not with this object of my present disappointment, I left that portion of the room in which it stood and crossed to where I had found the little table on the night of Mrs. Jeffrey's death. It was no longer there. It had been set back against the wall, where it properly belonged, and the kitchen chair no longer to be seen near the bookshelves. This fact, small as it was, caused me an instant of chagrin. I had intended to look again at the book which I had examined with such unsatisfactory results the time before. A glance showed me that this book had been pushed back level with the others. But I remembered its title, and had the means of reaching it been at hand I should certainly have stolen another peep at it.

Struck by a Stray Shot.
Evansville, Ind., Oct. 31.—William Knowles of New Harmony was walking along the Wabash river and received a stray shot in the back. He will probably die.

INQUIRY BEGINS

Judicial Determination Will Be Made of the Dogger Bank Incident.

KEEPING CLOSE WATCH

Pending an Adjustment of the Difficulty England Will Not Let Russians Get Out of Sight.

British War Vessels Keep a Sharp Watch on Movements of Baltic Squadron.

Paris, Oct. 31.—The Petit Journal's Lorient (France) correspondent says: "The captain of a Danish schooner, which has arrived here from the North sea, declares that when he was forced to put into an English port owing to stress of weather, he saw steam trawlers taking Japanese and explosives aboard openly."

London, Oct. 31.—The feverish activity in naval preparations which characterized last week have abated, but naval reports show that British war vessels are so disposed as to keep a sharp watch on all movements along the proposed route of the Russian Baltic squadron, including the Canary Islands, where the Russians have prepared elaborate arrangements for coaling from German steamers. Admiral Rojestvensky's four battleships remain at Vigo; but according to some reports the firing in the North sea was done by Admiral Volskersam's squadron, which is now at Tangier.

The Russians' own inquiry into Dogger bank affair was opened at Vigo on Sunday; the British inquiry will open at Hull forthwith. The inquiry will be resumed at Hull on Nov. 2. The Russian embassy has canceled its instructions for a representative to attend the inquiry, as it considers the case closed.

FRENCH DIPLOMACY

How Russia and England Were Kept From War Measures.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—The world will doubtless take particular satisfaction in according Emperor Nicholas, to whose initiative The Hague convention owed its existence, the honor and credit of having proposed an honorable solution of the North sea incident, which might have plunged Russia and Great Britain into war, by an appeal to its rules. Nevertheless, it is learned on very high authority that this diplomatic triumph belongs to M. Delcasse, the French minister. When the Yellow book of France and the Blue book of Great Britain covering this incident are issued, some very interesting diplomatic history will be disclosed. The great gravity of the situation, especially in Great Britain, where the inflated state of public opinion might at any moment have driven the government to extreme measures, and the danger involved in delay were keenly appreciated in the French capital. France's stake is almost equal to that of the parties directly in interest, and the very peace of the republic was involved, as a rupture between Great Britain and Russia, eventuating in war, by putting Great Britain and Japan in the position of making common cause against Russia, would inevitably result in an appeal to France to fulfill her obligations under the dual alliance. M. Delcasse, therefore, at the very outset went earnestly to work as a friend of both countries to find an equitable basis of adjustment. The opportunity came when Admiral Rojestvensky's report raised a direct issue of fact. M. Delcasse at once suggested an inquiry to establish the facts through an international commission under The Hague convention, offering the suggestion simultaneously to both governments, through Ambassador Cambon to Foreign Minister Lansdowne, and through Secretary Bouteiller to Ambassador Bompard's absence, to Count Lamsdorff. The idea found instant favor both here and in London, and Thursday night the Russian and British propositions, identical in effect, actually crossed each other on the way to the respective capitals. There was, however, this difference between them: Lord Lansdowne's instructions to Ambassador Hardinge authorized him to submit the proposition on behalf of the British government, whereas Count Lamsdorff's instructions were tentative and rather in the nature of a reeler as Count Lamsdorff, although he knew the emperor was favorable to the plan, had not yet secured the absolute consent of his majesty, to whom he arranged to submit the matter finally on Friday afternoon.

In the meantime, on Friday morning, the British proposition duly reached the Russian foreign minister at Tsarskoe Selo, and Friday afternoon the emperor gave his hearty approval. Tentative instructions had been cable to Ambassador Benckendorff at London the previous night, and without waiting to return to St. Petersburg, Count Lamsdorff cabled Ambassador Benckendorff specific authorization in the name of his majesty. The British proposition presented earlier in the day remained unanswered. Exactly what transpired in London when Ambassador Benckendorff presented the Russian proposition in the name of Emperor Nicholas is not known, except that Foreign Minister Lansdowne did not insist upon the question of precedence, appreciating, doubtless, that Russia, being figuratively the offending party, had the better right to offer to submit the determination of the facts to an impartial tribunal. The emperor's proposition, settling the matter in principle, was therefore accepted.

SISTERS FOR PEACE

Queen Alexandra and Dowager Empress of Russia in World Politics.

Copenhagen, Oct. 31.—It is learned that the North sea affair caused the deepest anxiety to King Christian of Denmark, who declared that should an Anglo-Russian war result it would be the cause of his death. The dowager empress of Russia promised her father, the king, to use her greatest efforts to prevent a conflict. It is stated that hundreds of dispatches were exchanged between the dowager empress and the queen of Great Britain during the week and that the two sisters rendered great service in the cause of peace.

Maneuvers Come to an End.

Gibraltar, Oct. 31.—Four Russian torpedo boat destroyers passed through the straits eastward bound, Sunday forenoon, shadowed by a British torpedo boat. The British mobilization maneuvers at Gibraltar were brought to a close Sunday. This is regarded as indicating that no apprehension is entertained of further complications with Russia.

Keeping an Eye on Them.

Vigo, Spain, Oct. 31.—There are five British warships cruising off Vigo, evidently watching the Russian vessels here.

A GENERAL MIX-UP

Central American States in a State of Unusual Turbulence.

Mazatlan, Mex., Oct. 31.—The news reaches Mexican west coast ports through visitors from Guatemala that this little republic is on the verge of another revolution which is to be the result of an act of war on the part of the republic of Salvador. General Salvador Toledo is now preparing to invade Guatemala at the head of forces furnished by the Salvadoran republic, and it is feared that the trouble once started is likely to involve all Central America. President Cabrera of Guatemala, who owes his power to General Toledo, has turned against Toledo, who is now to be forced into the presidency of Guatemala through the aid of 30,000 Salvadoran troops. Conditions in Guatemala are reported worse than in many years. An American dollar is worth $15 of the currency of the country.

Caught in Cave-in.

Hudson, Mass., Oct. 31.—Three Italian laborers were suffocated beneath fifteen feet of earth at the Maple street crossing of the Boston & Maine Railroad company. The men were excavating a trench preliminary to tunneling under the railroad tracks, when the earth caved in, burying them.

Opposition Impossible Now.

Panama, Oct. 31.—The resignation of Tomas Arias, secretary of state for the republic of Panama, apparently ends the division of political parties here. Pablo Arosemena, leader of the opposition, said: "Opposition to President Amador's government is impossible now."

Foreigners Fired At.

London, Oct. 31.—According to a Tangier dispatch, an American gentleman and two German sailors, while boating on the Larnache river, were fired at. Their fate is unknown. Another dispatch from Tangier reports that a German was killed at Larnache.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

Everett Eaton shot and killed himself and wife at Lowell, Mass.

The Russian inquiry into the North sea affair opened at Vigo Sunday.

The number of miners entombed by the explosion in a mine at Tercio, Col., is now known to be 49.

At a fire following a wedding in the poorer part of St. Petersburg eleven of the guests were burned to death.

An operation for appendicitis was performed on Japanese Minister Kogoro Takahira. The case is said to be a serious one.

A Dutch boat is being specially prepared to carry the body of the late Paul Kruger from Holland to its last resting place in the Transvaal.

Three persons were killed and twenty-three injured in a rear-end collision between two sections of a Missouri Pacific World's Fair special at Tipton, Mo.

THROWN INTO COKE OVEN

Horrid Murder Is Reported at Morgantown, Pa.

Morgantown, Pa., Oct. 31.—Steve Borck, employed at the Bessemer coke plant, reported that late Saturday night he saw a man thrown into a coke oven and cremated. Borck says he saw three men scuffling on top of an oven and a moment later saw two of them jump to the ground and disappear in the darkness. Just then flames issued from the oven as though fuel had been tossed into it. Coroner Hagan Sunday ordered the oven drawn, when blackened human bones and teeth were found. The murdered man and his assailants are unknown.

Another murder occurred about midnight Saturday night. Clifford Hawley shot and instantly killed Simon Donohoe and wounded William Mordow in the arm. Hawley and Donohoe, who had never met before, became engaged in a warm argument on politics and Mordow stepped between them and ordered them to desist. For answer Hawley reached into his coat pocket and, without withdrawing his hand from the pocket, fired two shots, with the result given above. Hawley escaped and is supposed to be on the way to his home in Addisville, Hamilton county, Ohio.

EDUCATION'S SCOPE

Interesting Figures Found in Official Report for the Year.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The report of the commissioner of education for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1904, shows that 16,009,361 pupils, or 20 per cent of the entire population of the country, attended the public schools during that year. As compared with the previous six years, this percentage shows a slight decrease in the number of pupils as compared with the total population. The total cost of the public school system is given as $251,457,625. This is an increase of $16,000,000 over the previous year. It amounts to $3.15 per capita of total population, and $22.75 per capita per pupil.

Since 1870 the proportion of male teachers has decreased from 39 per cent of the entire number to 26 per cent of the entire number the past year. The average compensation for male teachers last year was $49.98 and $40.51 for females. This is a slight increase over the previous year.

The enrollment in the private schools for the year is given as 1,093,876. By the addition of pupils in elementary schools, academies, institutions for higher education, evening schools, business schools, private kindergartens, Indian schools, state schools and schools for defective orphans, the grand total of 18,187,918 pupils is reported.

Death Invades Pulpit.

Newport News, Oct. 31.—Rev. Wm. H. Mitchell of Portsmouth, Va., while preaching in the pulpit of the Holiness Church here last night, fell dead. Apoplexy was the cause. He was fifty years old and leaves a widow and several children. Mr. Mitchell had been in the ministry many years and was well known in the South.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 31.—S. H. Hess, a Dunkard preacher, dropped dead Sunday in the Dunkard church at Wrightsville, while delivering a funeral sermon. He was sixty-five years of age.

Coroner Fixes the Blame.

Sedalia, Mo., Oct. 31.—The coroner of this county held an inquest here last night, inquiring into the cause of the wreck on the Missouri Pacific railroad at Tipton, Mo., in which three persons were killed and twenty-three injured early Sunday, and the following verdict was rendered: "The collision was caused by neglect of flagman of first No. 3 in not properly flagging second No. 3 and also by engineer of second No. 3 for coming into station in a careless manner in not having his engine under control."

William Zeigler's Condition.

Stamford, Conn., Oct. 31.—The condition of William Zeigler of New York, who was thrown from his carriage several weeks ago and who is at his summer home at this place, remains about the same. After recovering somewhat from the accident he suffered a relapse a short time ago and has been in a somewhat critical condition since.

Murdered Man Identified.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 31.—The body of the stranger who was some time ago found dead in a ditch near Miller's station with a bullet-hole in his head, was exhumed last night and identified by William Efferts of Chicago as that of his younger brother, J. J. Efferts, who disappeared from Chicago several weeks ago.

Colombia Much Disturbed.

Panama, Oct. 31.—Advices from Cauca report that there is great discontent there and throughout Colombia. Apparently President Reyes, with his political enemies in the majority in both houses of congress, cannot control the situation. Paper currency is being issued in unlimited amount.

Mine Fire Extinguished.

Shamokin, Pa., Oct. 31.—Officials of the Enterprise colliery, which caught fire three weeks ago, state that the fire, which has caused over $100,000 damage, has been extinguished.

Costly Fire at Fowler.

Fowler, Ind., Oct. 31.—Newton Bros. hardware store, one of the largest buildings and stocks of goods in Benton county, burned, incurring a loss of over $25,000.

A THIRD ATTACK

Japs Begin Another General Assault on Beleaguered Fortress.

FIRE SPREAD TO TOWN

The Russians' Only Smokeless Powder Magazine Was Exploded and Flames Attacked Town.

In the Vicinity of Shakhe River There Have Been No Important Developments.

A third general attack on Port Arthur is reported to have begun on Oct. 24 and to have been still in progress on the 26th. On the latter day the Russians' only smokeless powder magazine was exploded, the fire spreading to the town and raging all through the day. Russian trenches on the slope of Rihlung mountain were taken by the Japanese. In the vicinity of the Shakhe river there have been no developments of interest.

COMFORTABLE EXILE

It is Said Is in Store for Viceroy Alexieff.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—The military situation has not yet developed anything of great importance, though the fight at the Buddhist Temple hill on October 27 appears to have been decidedly a heavy engagement. It probably indicates that final moves on both sides are now occurring, preparatory to another long and serious battle.

Viceroy Alexieff is now on the way to St. Petersburg. The nature of his reception here is the food for much speculation. Some of his friends still cling to the idea that he will be made chancellor of the empire, with his residence in the winter palace, where, it is said, a suite of apartments has already been prepared for him. On the other hand many declare that his political career is practically over and that his reception at St. Petersburg, while officially cordial, will mark the end of his political ascendancy. It is rumored that the viceroyalty of the Caucasus will be revived for his special benefit, which would constitute a complimentary and comfortable sort of exile.

Situation at Port Arthur.

Chefoo, Oct. 31.—The third general attack on Port Arthur began Oct. 24, according to unimpeachable authority. On the 26th the Japanese shells set fire to the only smokeless powder magazine in Port Arthur. Portions of the town caught fire, the conflagration continuing the whole day. On Oct. 26 the Japanese captured the Russian trenches on the slope of Rihlung mountain, also a fortified position protecting that fortress. The Japanese consider the progress of the siege to be highly satisfactory.

Outpost Skirmishes Reported.

Tokio, Oct. 31.—A report from the Manchurian army headquarters records a successful night attack against the Russian outpost at Wumington and two unsuccessful counter attacks made by the Russians.

THE POWERS INVITED

President's Call for a Second Hague Conference Issued.

Washington, Oct. 31.—In a circular note Secretary Hay has carried out the president's instructions relative to proposing a second Hague conference. The note not only contemplates the reassembling of The Hague conference for the consideration of questions specifically mentioned by the original conference as demanding further attention, such as the rights and duties of neutrals; the inviolability of private property in naval warfare and the bombardment of ports by naval force, but goes further by practically endorsing the project of a general system of arbitration treaties and the establishment of an international congress to meet periodically in the interests of peace. The issue of the call while the present war is in progress is justified by the fact that the fore our treaty of peace with Spain fore our treaty of peace with Spain was concluded.

Elevator Takes a Dive.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 31.—From some cause which cannot be definitely explained, the Ontario elevator collapsed Sunday and sank into the waters of the Evans slip. The elevator contained 370,000 bushels of barley, a large portion of which lies at the bottom of the slip. The loss on the grain and the building is estimated at $350,000.

Tickled New Yorkers.

New York, Oct. 31.—Sightseers crowded the subway for hours Sunday afternoon. It is estimated that 180,000 people rode in the underground trains during the three hours from 3 to 5 o'clock, and that of these fully one-quarter were children.

Parker's Speeches Ready.

Esopus, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Judge Alton B. Parker started for New York at noon today to begin his speaking campaign. The candidate has practically completed the preparations of the speeches he will make this week.

CHAPTER VII.

THE next morning my duty led me directly in the way of that little friend of mine whom I have already mentioned. It is strange how often my duty led me in her way.

She is a demure little creature, with wits as bright as her eyes, which is saying a great deal, and while in the course of our long friendship I had admired without making use of the special abilities I saw in her, I felt that the time had now come when they might prove of incalculable value to me.

Greeting her with pardonable abruptness, I expressed my wishes in these possibly alarming words:

"Jenny, you can do something for me. Find out—I know you can, and that, too, without arousing suspicion or compromising either of us—where Mr. Moore of Waverley avenue buys his groceries, and when you have done that, whether or not he has lately replenished himself with candies."

The surprise which she showed had a touch of naivete in it which was very encouraging.

"Mr. Moore," she cried, "the uncle of her who—who?"

"The very same," I responded and waited for her questions without adding ing a single word in way of explanation.

She gave me a look—oh, what a look! It was as encouraging to the detective as it was welcome to the lover, after which she nodded, once in doubt, once in question and once in frank and laughing consent, and darted off.

I thanked Providence for such a self contained little aid-de-camp and proceeded on my way in a state of great self satisfaction.

An hour later I came upon her again. It is really extraordinary how frequently the paths of some people cross.

"Well?" I asked.

"Mr. Moore deals with Simpkins, just two blocks away from his house, and only a week ago he bought some candies there."

I rewarded her with a smile which summoned into view the most exasperating of dimples.

"You had better patronize Simpkins yourself for a little while," I suggested, and by the arch glance with which Jenny aids the detective.

my words were received I perceived that my meaning was fully understood. Experiencing from this moment an increased confidence, not only in the powers of my little friend, but in the line of investigation thus happily established, I cast about for means of settling the one great question which was a necessary preliminary to all future action—whether the marks detected by me in the dust of the mantel in the southwest chamber had been made by the hand of him who had lately felt the need of candies, albeit his house appeared to be fully lighted by gas?

The point aimed at was this: To obtain without Mr. Moore's knowledge an accurate impression of his finger tips.

The task presented difficulties, but these served only to increase my ardor. Confiding to the lieutenant of the precinct my great interest in the mysterious house with whose suggestive interior I had made myself acquainted under such tragic circumstances, I asked him as a personal favor to obtain for me an opportunity of spending another night there. He was evidently surprised by the request, and being as I have intimated, favorably disposed to me, he exerted himself to such good effect that I was formally detailed to assist in keeping watch over the premises that very night.

As I prepared to enter the old house at nightfall I allowed myself one short glance across the way to see if my approach had been observed by the man whose secret, if secret he had, I was laying plans to surprise. I was met by a sight I had not expected. Pausing on the pavement in front of me stood a handsome, elderly gentleman whose appearance was so fashionable and thoroughly up to date that I should have failed to recognize him if my glance had not taken in at the same

LOVE DIES.

Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox says there comes a time in the course of married love when "the thrill goes out of the hand-clasp and the kiss at times, and it is then that husband and wife may be susceptible to other magnetic personalities." The reason for this condition of affairs is often the fault of the husband, but how often is it not due to the wife's nervousness and irritability due to some trouble with the organs peculiarly feminine—the wife under such circumstances feels languid and spiritless—she suffers perhaps from headache and sleeplessness.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States, for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

A great deal of sickness may be saved by keeping on hand a copy of Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser." Sent free, paper-bound, for twenty-one one-cent stamps, to pay cost of mailing only, or cloth-bound for thirty-one stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Constipation and a bilious attack go hand-in-hand. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a sure and speedy cure for both. Tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. Nothing else is "just as good."

When the system has become weakened from any cause, what ever the Bitters will strengthen it and restore you to robust health again. Its past record proves its value. Try it for Nervousness, Torpid Liver, Heartburn, Poor Appetite, Dyspepsia or Indigestion.

Hon. William Dudley Foulke, of Richmond, an ex-Congressman and a great speaker, will speak in Seymour at 2:30 in the afternoon of Nov. 5.

REMEMBER the meeting of Republicans at headquarters tonight at 7:30. See announcement in another column.

THE New York Herald, one of the ablest champions of Judge Parker in the east gave up the fight a month ago, conceding the election of Roosevelt and Fairbanks. The Herald now makes public its poll of the country and concedes again that the Republicans will sweep the country (and that congress will be controlled by the Republicans). The Herald figures out that Roosevelt is sure of 257 electoral votes and that Parker is sure of only 159. In the states classed in the doubtful column the Herald concedes that the Republicans are almost sure to get sixty more electoral votes which would bring the total up to over 300, which would be the greatest majority ever given a candidate for the presidency. It requires only 239 votes in the electoral college to elect. These figures look good to the Republicans but the Democrats felt mighty blue when they read them in the Enquirer Sunday. Keep the good work going. Let every Republican do his best every day until the election is past.

IN Jackson township, like in every other township in the county, the Republicans are fortunate in having splendid candidates for trustee and Assessor. W. F. Bush, the candidate for trustee, is one of the successful and enterprising business men of this city. He has lived here from his boyhood and the people know him and have confidence in him. He is honest and upright, genial and obliging, a man of business capacity and a progressive citizen. That he will make a thoroughly capable trustee every one admits. He will administer the affairs of the township intelligently and economically. Give him your earnest support and vote.

J. W. Massman, our candidate for township assessor, is thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office of township assessor. His knowledge comes from actual experience, having served as deputy assessor a number of years. The people of this city and township have known him for years and they know that he always does his work well. He is a man of business experience, thoroughly capable and trustworthy and will conduct the assessor's office just as it ought to be conducted. Give your support and vote to J. W. Massman.

MARRIED.

WAK FIELD-MARVIN.

Sunday evening at 6 o'clock Miss Cora Marvin, sister of Mrs. Charles Nicholson, of this city, and Mr. Ed. Wakefield, of Indianapolis, were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicholson, 213 East Third street, Rev. J. A. Sargent officiating. They left the same evening for their future home at Indianapolis, where he is the foreman of the carving department in a furniture factory.

Pie Supper.

The pie supper given by the Court of Honor Friday night was a decided success. A prize drill contest was an interesting feature of the evening. There was a big crowd out and all had a good time.

E. P. Tennen, General Freight agent, W. C. McLaughlin, Chief Clerk, of Cincinnati, and J. M. Ryan, Division Freight Agent, of Louisville, all of the B. & O. S-W. were guests of T. S. Blish yesterday.

Political Gossip.

J. A. Cox and John M. Lewis were greeted by a good crowd at Reddingtown Saturday night. A dram corps went out with them from Seymour and another one was there from Azalia.

Daniel E. Storms, secretary of state, was in town today on his way to Washington where he speaks tonight. He says everything looks rosy for the Republicans and all that is necessary to roll up the greatest majority ever given in Indiana is for the Republicans to keep busy from now until the polls close.

Senator Beveridge and Capt. W. E. English will speak at Scottsburg next Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The Republicans of Austin and vicinity are arranging for an all day rally next Saturday. Arrangements have been made to have the special train bearing Senator Fairbanks and party to stop there ten minutes.

There will be a meeting of Republicans at Republican headquarters in Masonic Temple at 7:30 tonight to complete arrangements for the Fairbanks meeting here next Saturday. All Republicans are invited.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

What Greedy Got

Greedy was a strange creature. In the first place he was the only one of thirteen eggs that old Mrs. Speckle was able to hatch.

To say he was ugly would be but poorly to express it.

His head was like a duck, for he was at first a duck's egg. But his tail was wonderfully like Mrs. Speckle's. His feet were like paddles on a steamboat, and his appetite was enormous. His poor mother did so much scratching in the garden to satisfy his greed that they shut her up in a coop.

"See what you have brought me to by your greediness," said his poor mother.

POOR BILL GAVE UP THE CHASE.

But he only grinned and gobbled all the corn placed before his mother's coop.

"You needn't scold," he cried. "You brought me here with my appetite and I must eat."

"But please be careful," she answered anxiously. "One day you eat Paris green and nearly die, another you fill yourself with pebbles, another—"

But just then along came little Bill. He had a pleased expression on his face, for in his hand he carried a brand new watch, given him for his birthday.

In a moment Greedy saw it.

"It looks like crackers," he squawked.

"I shall get it if I can."

Bill put the watch proudly in his belt, and just as he did so spied Mrs. Speckle in the coop. Leaning over to scratch her topknot, the watch dropped out. In an instant Greedy was at it. He opened his great fat beak, took it in and started on a run. Bill saw him and gave chase.

"Drop it! Drop it! You horrid thing!" he cried.

"Not if I know it," squawked Greedy, paddling along.

Poor Bill gave up the chase and sat down to cry, while Greedy in the quiet seclusion of the meadow grass began to eat the watch. It was one of the "dollar" type.

"Not much give to it," he grunted. But just then he met his doom, as his mother had said he would, for the watch spring suddenly broke loose and went off with a terrible bang. Whirr-r-r!

Greedy's head went with it. His paddle feet gave a few kicks, his tail a few feeble wags, and he was dead.

His greed had killed him—Atlanta Constitution.

The Sunflower.

It has always been said, how truly we do not positively know, that the sunflower turns its face ever toward the sun; that it bows a genial welcome to the king of day when that monarch first lifts the curtain of night and peers over the horizon upon an awakening world, and that it follows the imperial visitor in his majestic march across the heavens and nods a good night to him as he passes with his retinue of golden beams and silvery shadows behind the western slopes. This may be an exaggeration of the sunflower's conduct, but we believe it is at least partially true, and that the Kansas flower does respond in some degree to the attractions of the great luminary. Anyhow, the thought of this handsome product of the prairies turning its frank, open face ever toward the light and responding to the ardent wooing of the sun with reciprocal affection is inspiring, isn't it? It is a symbol of the ideal soul—the soul that loves the light, that glows in the presence of things that are lovely, the receptive soul, the soul that is responsive to truth and beauty—in a word, the sunflower's soul.—Nation (Grand Record).

SEEK CHEAP LABOR

The Underlying Motive of Southern Race Agitation.

The attack of the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore on movements for popular education in the South is not surprising when one takes into account the fact that the Record is the organ of Southern industrial interests, and understands the attitude of these interests toward the wage-earner as exemplified not only in the matter of factory legislation, but in the enactments recently effected for the disfranchisement of the vast majority of those who work for wages in the South. The industrial phase of the race question is a matter that seems to have been taken into little account, and yet there is much evidence, a good deal of it to be gleaned from the pages of the Manufacturers' Record, to show that the disfranchisement movement in the South is intended quite as much for the industrial as for the social subjection of the South's wage-earning class. To deprive the wage-earner of the ballot is to put him well on the road toward peonage, and if to this be added the withdrawal of educational privileges, the purpose will be still further forwarded.

In the Manufacturers' Record some time ago there appeared a communication from a manufacturer and member of the legislature in Governor Vardaman's state who said that the agitation for child-labor and kindred laws in the South were instigated by Northern manufacturers, who saw their finish when once the South had fully applied its cheap and dependent labor supply to its unlimited natural resources. It seems surprising that Northern manufacturers, farmers and wage-earners have never seemed to realize the industrial bearing of the South's anti-negro agitation of the past ten years under cover of which the great preponderance of the wage-earning class has been rendered helplessly subject, and at the same time there has been successful resistance in most Southern states to the enactment of such labor laws as have been placed upon the statute books of the North. The Northern manufacturer first, the Northern farmer and wage-earner next, must compete in the same market under these unequal conditions, and if they are to continue either the Northern wage-earner must accept the Southern scale of wages and Southern conditions of labor, or the transfer of the American cotton manufacturing industry from New England to the South, which has for several years been going gradually on, will be followed by similar emigration of other industries, because manufacturers will ultimately seek the most economical and favorable conditions. It may be argued that the Northern factory operative has nothing to fear from the competition of underpaid, unorganized and uneducated labor, which is true as relates to certain industries, but as relates to others, in which machinery plays the larger part in production, the recent history of the cotton industry is sufficient evidence to the contrary. The New England mills have had to close down, lower wages, lose money, or move.

The colored population of the United States is here, it is going to stay here, it will advance either to the American labor standard, or deteriorate to the Mexican labor standard. Every Northern anti-negro crusader engaged in encouraging the political and industrial subjection of the several million American wage-earners who happen to be black is campaigning not only against these men, but against every American wage-worker.

Enough people in the nation and enough in the state favor the Republican ticket to make the victory a decisive one if the voters go to the polls. Let the voter keep in mind the fact that it is by one vote at a time that the result of elections is determined. The hundreds of thousands and the millions are made up of these individual votes, insignificant as the one vote may seem to be to the voter himself.

A representative in the legislature was at one time elected by one vote. In the same legislature a United States senator was elected by one vote. Had that one vote been cast the other way at the polls it would have determined the result of the election of a United States senator.

When Democratic leadership talks about existing industrial and agricultural conditions being unsatisfactory, any man with a memory long enough to reach back to 1894 will be able to understand the kind of conditions this leadership would restore if again given control of the government.

Look at the Record. During the period of Republican control of state affairs beginning with 1895 the valuation for taxation of corporate property in Indiana has been increased by the Board of State Tax Commissioners 21 per cent. During the same period the valuation of farm lands and improvements has been increased in half that proportion, or 10 1/2 per cent. A vote for Republican state and legislative candidates is a vote in favor of making corporate property bear its just share of the public burdens.

DIED.

WACKER.—H. W. Wacker, sr., died at his home in Brownstown, Sunday evening, Oct. 30, 1904, at 7 o'clock, aged 64 years, 3 months and 7 days.

Mr. Wacker was born in Germany, July 23, 1840, and came to America in 1853. He located at Louisville where he served an apprenticeship as a machinist. This trade he followed until 1861, when he came to Jackson county and engaged in mercantile business at Crane's mill for four years. He then came to Seymour and later went to Shields where he conducted an extensive mercantile and milling business. In 1876 he was elected county treasurer, serving two terms. When he retired from office in 1887 he engaged in business at Brownstown. Nov. 4, 1860 he was married at Louisville to Miss Rust, a native of Germany. To them were born five children, two sons and three daughters. Mr. Wacker was a Mason and Odd Fellow. He had a wide acquaintance in the county.

Funeral at Brownstown Wednesday at 10:30 a. m.

MOORE.—Mrs. Phoebe Moore, wife of Chester Moore, died of pneumonia at the family home, four miles and a half East of Seymour, Sunday evening at 6:15 o'clock. Her age was 75 years, 11 months and 21 days. She was born in New York state but had been a resident of this vicinity many years and had many friends. She leaves a husband and a family of grown children. Funeral from the residence at 10 o'clock Tuesday forenoon. Burial in the private burying ground on the home place.

CRYDERMAN.—A message Saturday night to Mrs. E. H. Hayes, of this city, announces that her mother, Mrs. C. M. Cryderman, died at Lincoln, Nebraska, Saturday Oct. 28. Mrs. Cryderman's home was in Kansas and she had been on a visit to her son in Washington when she had a stroke of paralysis on August 5. They were on their way back to their home when she died. Mrs. Cryderman formerly lived in this county.

ABEL.—The little two-year old child of Sult Abel Jr. and wife died at the family residence at Rockford Sunday night. Funeral and burial Tuesday Nov. 1.

One Half of the People

In this world don't know how the other half live, and a great part of them don't see well enough to appreciate the beauties that others with good eyes enjoy. Principally because they hink, they see well, while in reality they have not more than half normal vision. People who are unfortunate enough to have painful vision giving forth supreme effort to see, are even worse off than those who see poorly, because that effort brings serious results.

There is no occasion in these days to suffer from defective eyesight, or the effort to see. We can put troubles of this kind behind you. This is our specialty and we know it as an open book, which is combined with a conscientious determination, to do the work just right, hence our guarantee, if you are not satisfied your money back. CHRONIC SORES

Signs of Polluted Blood.

There is nothing so repulsive looking and disgusting as an old sore. You worry over it till the brain grows weary and work with it until the patience is exhausted, and the very sight of the old festering, sickly looking place makes you irritable, despondent and desperate.

A chronic sore is the very best evidence that your blood is in an unhealthy and impoverished condition, that your constitution is breaking down under the effects of some serious disorder. The taking of strong medicines, like mercury or potash, will sometimes so pollute and vitiate the blood and impair the general system that the merest scratch or bruise results in obstinate non-healing sores of the most offensive character.

Often an inherited taint breaks out in frightful eating sores upon the limbs or face in old age or middle life. Whenever a sore refuses to heal the blood is always at fault, and, while antiseptic washes, salves, soaps and powders can do much to keep down the inflammation and cleanse the sore, it will never heal permanently till the blood itself has been purified and the deadly germs and poisons destroyed, and with S. S. S. this can be accomplished—the polluted blood is purified and invigorated, and when fresh, pure blood is again circulating freely throughout the body the flesh around the old sore begins to take on a natural color, the discharge of matter ceases and the place heals over.

S. S. S. is both a blood purifier and tonic that puts your blood in order and at the same time tones up the system and builds up the general health. If you have a chronic sore write us. No charge for medical advice.

Insurance Agents at Indianapolis Refuse to Obey Orders.

RESIST RAISING RATES

Companies in Big Combine Declare Rates Must Go Up, but Agents Say No.

The Latter Seem to Command the Situation and Developments Are Expected.

Indianapolis, Oct. 31.—Among Indianapolis fire insurance underwriters the belief prevails that they will be successful in their fight against their companies to prevent an excessive rate increase from being saddled on Indianapolis policy holders. The new rate becomes operative under the order of the Western Insurance Union of Chicago tomorrow. Local underwriters without exception will refuse, it is said, to write policies under the new rates and will wait for a move on the part of the companies before going on with the fight in earnest.

The Indianapolis underwriters are basing their hopes of making the companies back down on the ground that serious dissension has been brewing recently among the companies in the Western Insurance Union and that any agreement to maintain increased rates in Indianapolis would sooner or later be broken by those companies desiring to secure business at the expense of the others.

For the companies in the union to discharge their Indianapolis agents and put new men in their places would be impossible at this time, say local underwriters. The fact that many large and powerful fire insurance companies are not members of the union and have ordered no increases of rates in Indianapolis will also tend, it is said, to prevent a determined stand on the part of the union companies.

DESERVED NO SYMPATHY

Judge in Passing Sentence Scores Former Respected Citizen.

Indianapolis, Oct. 31.—In criminal court Judge Alfred sentenced Horace Caldwell to a term of not more than five years at the Michigan City prison for passing fraudulent checks.

Caldwell was a prominent contractor in Indianapolis at one time and acquired some fame as a race-horse owner. Business reverses were said to have been the cause of his dishonesty. Caldwell's attorney made a strong plea to have his client sent to the workhouse instead of the penitentiary, which would have been possible under the law, but Judge Alfred said Caldwell had shown so little consideration for his friends and his three innocent daughters that he deserved no sympathy. The lawyer said his client was anxious to avoid the stigma that attached itself to a man who had been to the penitentiary, saying that he would all his life be branded as an ex-convict.

Seeking New Location.

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 31.—Llewellyn H. Vinnebeck, former local manager for the American Steel and Wire company for two years, against whom indictments charging embezzlement and grand larceny are pending in the circuit court, has gone to Duluth, Minn., to embark in the insurance business and is endeavoring to sell his home here. After Vinnebeck's mysterious disappearance last December the alleged embezzlement was reported. He was located at New Orleans and brought to this city by an officer. It is not known when his case will be called for trial.

Mill Wrecked by Explosion.

Boonville, Ind., Oct. 31.—The boiler at the planing mill at Dale, Spencer county, exploded. No one was near and the loss is confined to the building and its contents, including the engine.

A HELPING HAND

Is Gladly Extended by Seymour Citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in Seymour prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such a source is the best of evidence and will prove a "helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

Mrs. L. T. Gorrell, of 709 Brown street says: "I derived great benefit from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, sold by C. W. Milhous, the druggist. My son also suffered a great deal with his kidneys, and the use of Doan's Kidney Pills built him right up and after taking them he had no further annoyance. My husband suffered much from a lame back and did not sleep well at nights on account of the pain and a kidney weakness. He remarked the other day that he never had a medicine do him so much good as Doan's Kidney Pills did. I have no hesitation whatever in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity which occurs."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Burglars Ransacked Town.

Rochester, Ind., Oct. 31.—A wholesale burglary occurred at Athens, this county, when every store in the town was entered and pillaged. It is not yet known what the total loss of property will be. To propitiate for the failure of the pickle factory producing anything for their liking, the burglars destroyed valuable books.

Little Boy Crushed to Death.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 31.—While playing near his home Cleo James, four years old, was caught under a street roller and instantly killed. His mother had but recently lost an infant child by death and the tragic ending of the life of this boy has dethroned her reason. Her case is a pitiable one.

Trampled to Death.

Peru, Ind., Oct. 31.—Carl Wibrew, aged eleven years, was trampled to death under the feet of his father's horses at Mexico, five miles north of here. The boy fell off the wagon as it was checked on going down a hill. The father, Mobe Wibrew, who lives near Perrysburg, was driving.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver, of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunk in, tongue coated, pain constantly in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

THE FAIRBANKS TOUR

Candidate Starts on Final Round-up of the Campaign.

Indianapolis, Oct. 31.—Senator Chas. Warren Fairbanks this morning began his tour of Indiana, which the Republicans are confident will put them in fine shape for election day. They are also confident that it will eclipse the Bryan tour, which is doubtful, however, as he had remarkable meetings. The senator seems to have thrived on his strenuous campaign experience, for he looked the picture of vigorous health as he started away this morning. He refused to make any predictions as to the outcome of the campaign, but he wore a highly satisfied smile. He has enjoyed the campaign and is ready for the great effort the Republicans have called for. His speeches today were at Westfield, Sheridan, Frankfort, Tipton, Elwood, Alexandria, Fairmount, Marion, Wabash, Huntington and Fort Wayne. Tomorrow he speaks at Butler, Auburn, Angola, Waterloo, Kendallville, Wolcottville, Lagrange, Sturgis, Mich., Goshen, Elkhart, South Bend, Laporte, Michigan City and Hammond. His trip calls for over ten speeches a day.

The betting opened this morning with no change over last week. It is really surprising the little betting that is now going on. Four years ago at this time men were standing about the betting boards in large crowds, but General Apathy seems to hold the betting until a few days ago, when the old parties believe they routed him effectively and finally. Roosevelt is still a strong favorite over Parker on general results, as high as four to one being offered that he wins. Two to one is offered that he carries this state, even money that he carries Indiana, New York, Wisconsin and West Virginia. Even money is offered that Hanly will have 8,000 plurality in Indiana and Roosevelt 15,000. Even money is offered that the Republican plurality will not exceed 20,000 in this state, which is a Republican slump, as some of the leaders have been boasting that their ticket would be elected by not less than 30,000 and probably as high as 50,000. It is not known why there is so little betting, but it looks as if not half as much as usual will change hands here on the result.

A report that two men followed Chairman Taggart all the way from New York, and that they have been shadowing every movement he makes has aroused considerable interest among the politicians who are wont to congregate at the Grand hotel. They firmly believe that Mr. Taggart is being shadowed, and they say that if they were in his place they would "take a shot" at the spies. Mr. Taggart, however, does not seem perturbed. On the contrary his friends say he seems to enjoy the unusual espionage and it is said that he regards it as a joke. He duped his sleuths a few days ago by announcing that he would go to French Lick and then leaving the train after it was out of the station. His sleuths did not miss him till they reached Gosport, forty-four miles away. Mr. Taggart is a great practical joker and he is giving the spies a good run for their money keeping tab on him. It is supposed that the men were detailed to keep a line on his movements and report to his political enemies.

Congressman Jesse Overstreet, who returned yesterday from New York, where he has been held during the campaign as secretary of the congressional campaign committee, began his canvass here today. He will make three or four speeches a day till election. Mr. Overstreet says that the situation here is very pleasing to him. He believes that the Republican ticket will be much stronger this time because Senator Fairbanks and Senator Beveridge are candidates. He looks for home pride to cut a considerable figure. Mr. Overstreet predicted that the Republicans will have a larger majority in congress than it now has, although he says it is probable they may lose some of their close districts. They will gain more, however, than they lose, according to his calculations.

The managers of the campaign have come to town to remain till the results are heard. Chairman Goodrich came in yesterday afternoon from Winchester and was at the Republican headquarters bright and early today. Chairman O'Brien arrived last night from Lawrenceburg and is knee-deep in business at the Democratic headquarters. All of the leaders have settled down for the finals, and from now on they will think of nothing else.

Punish All Children.

Norristown, Pa., Oct. 31.—In speaking at the teachers' institute of discipline in the schools, Supervising Principal Emma V. Thomas of Philadelphia referred to the value of impartiality. She said that every punishment should be adjusted to the fault and whether the offender was the daughter of a director or the son of a politician.

Many Priests Attended.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 31.—A procession two miles long followed the body of the late Rev. Peter Johannes to its burial place. Priests from several states were here to attend the funeral.

World's Fair Attendance.

St. Louis, Oct. 31.—The attendance at the World's Fair for the week ending Saturday, Oct. 29, was 749,368. The total attendance to date is 15,923,295.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 27 N. MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

ARE YOU SURE YOU KNOW HOW TO VOTE?

The device at the head of the Republican ticket is an eagle. The device at the head of the Democratic ticket is a rooster.

The Democratic ticket is in the first column, the Republican ticket is in the second column, and so on.

Below is a sample of the heading of the Democratic and Republican tickets, with the respective party devices, in the order in which they will appear on the official ballot:

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

DEM. For Presidential Elector, State-at-Large, HUGH DOUGHERTY.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

REP. For Presidential Elector, State-at-Large, GEORGE A. CUNNINGHAM

Thousands of Indiana Republicans will lose their votes on Nov. 8 on account of imperfect knowledge of the method of casting a ballot. Nineteen-tenths of those who make mistakes will be persons who are absolutely sure that they know how it is done. It is worth while to be certain. DON'T DISFRANCHISE YOURSELF. The voter who reads carefully the following instructions will take no chances on such a contingency.

When you go to your voting place you will be handed three ballots:

The state ballot—On red paper, containing the candidates to be voted on for state offices, except for senator and representative.

The county ballot—Printed on white paper.

The township ballot—Printed on yellow paper, containing the township candidates.

If you want to vote a straight Republican ticket, make a cross within the circle containing the eagle at the head of the second column of the ballot.

You must get your ballot and the blue pencil of the polling clerks in the election room.

If you want to vote a straight ticket make a cross, X, within the large circle at the head of the ticket containing the device of the party for whose candidates you wish to vote. If you do not wish to vote a straight ticket, you must not make a cross in the large circle containing the device of your party, but you must make a cross, X, on the small square to the left of the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote, on whatever list of candidates it may be. If the large circle at the head of the ticket is marked, and the ballot is marked at any other place, it is void and cannot be counted, unless there be no candidate for same office in the list printed under such marked device, in which case you may indicate your choice for such office by marking a cross, X, on the square to the left of the name of any candidate for such office on any other list. The cross must be placed within or on the circle or square or the ballot is void and cannot be counted.

Do not mutilate your ballot, or mark it by either scratching a name off or writing one on, or in any other way, except by marking in the circle or on the squares as before mentioned. Otherwise the ballot will not be counted. You must not put any mark of any kind on your ballot except as before mentioned.

After marking your ballots, and before leaving the booth, fold them separately so that the face of each cannot be seen, and so the initial letters of the names of the polling clerks on the back thereof can be seen. Then hand your ballots to the inspector, the pencil to the polling clerk, and leave the room.

If you are physically unable to mark your ballot, or cannot read English, so inform the polling clerks, and make an affidavit to that effect, and tell them how you wish to vote, and they will mark your ballot for you. But neither you nor the clerks must permit any other person to hear or see how your ballot is marked. It is a penal offense to declare that you cannot read English or cannot mark your ballot, if, in fact, you can; and in no case shall the ballots be marked by the poll clerks if the voter can read the English language or is physically able to mark his ballot, and then not until the voter has made the affidavit.

If you should accidentally, or by mistake, deface, mutilate or spoil your ballot, return it to the poll clerks and get a new ballot.

You must not accept a ballot from any person outside of the election room. Any ballot outside is unlawful and it is a penitentiary offense to have such a ballot in your possession, whether you attempt to vote it or not.

You must not attempt to hold any conversation in the election room except with members of the election board and poll clerks.

Use only the blue pencil handed to you by the polling clerk in marking your ballot. If you mark with any other pencil your ballot is void and will not be counted.

You must not put any mark of any kind on your ballot except as before mentioned.

WHEN YOU CATCH COLD

Do not take chances on it wearing away or experiment with some unknown preparation which may leave the bronchial tubes and lungs weakened and susceptible to attack from the germs of Pneumonia or Consumption.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. Contains no opiates.

It Saved His Life After the Doctor Said He Had Consumption.

W. R. Davis, Vissalia, California, writes: "There is no doubt but what Foley's Honey and Tar saved my life. I had an awful cough on my lungs and the doctor told me I had consumption. I commenced taking Foley's Honey and Tar and found relief from the first and three bottles cured me completely."

A Policeman's Testimony.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman, of Nashville, Iowa, writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least a half-dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world."

Three sizes—25c, 50c and $1.00. The 50-cent size contains two and one-half times as much as the small size and the $1.00 bottle almost six times as much. Refuse Substitutes.
